Date: 2010

ABOUT ME

SCOTT M. BAKER
NORTHERN VIRGINIA

I am a horror/urban fantasy author who lives in northern Virginia. My most recent works include The Vampire Hunters trilogy, which is being published both in electronic format (by Shadowfire Press) and print (by Pill Hill Press), as well as several zombie-related short stories that have appeared in the e-zine Necrotic Tissue or in Living Dead Press' anthologies. Recently, I signed a contract with Permuted Press to publish Rotter World, a novel about humans and vampires trying to survive the zombie apocalypse, which is scheduled for publication in early 2012. When not writing or blogging, I can usually be found catering to the six house rabbits who live with me.
