

'Get The Hell,' Supersuckers (Acetate Records, 4 stars)

This Jan. 14 release, which is The Supersuckers' first studio album in five years, celebrates 25 years of their brand of punk rock. It was recorded at Willie Nelson's Arlyn Studio in Austin, Texas, and mixed by Dwarves' leader Blag Dahlia along with Andy Carpenter. There have been personnel changes since the last studio album.

Singer/bassist Eddie Spaghetti and drummer/backing vocalist since 2012 Captain Von Streicher, along with guitarist/backing vocalists Dan "Thunder" Bolton and Metal Marty Chandler rounding out the crew, bring sarcasm, cynicism and head-banging power to this release.

Willie's longtime harmonica, Mickey Raphael, plays on a song whose name is miles away from family friendly. Other highlights include pulse-pounding tunes like "Never Let Me Down Again," "That's What You Get For Thinkin'," "Shut Your Face" and "Something About You."

This is no-frills high-volume rock 'n' roll that's cool for lots of listeners.
