

The Supersuckers - Get the Hell

(Acetate/MVD)

Get is Seattle's Supersuckers' first album with guitarist Metal Marty Chandler in place of Rontrose Heathman. While the latter's sizzling solos are missed, there's no change in sound: the band still breaks bad with a West Coast take on Motörhead's roaring punk metal. The production is uncharacteristically muddy and a few tracks—"Fuck Up," "Shut Your Face," the take on David Essex's 1973 #5 "Rock On"—betray a certain creative fatigue. But when the band is on, via "Pushin' Thru," "High Tonight," and a riotous blaze through Depeche Mode's 1987 U.K. 22 "Never Let Me Down Again," it's freakin' on. (acetate.com; mvdb2b.com)

- Jack Rabid