Severin Films

Two-time BAFTA and Golden Globe nominee Rupert Everett stars as cemetery watchman Francesco Dellamorte, tasked with dispatching the recently deceased when they rise from their graves. But when he falls in love with a beautiful young widow (Anna Falchi), will his resurrected lust for life become greater than his bond with death? François Hadji-Lazaro co-stars in the finest erotic romantic existential black comedy zombie gore fest of our time, and over 3 hours of Special Features – including new interviews with Soavi and Everett. An absolute masterpiece" (Bloody Disgusting) by iconic Italian director Michele Soavi (THE SECT, THE CHURCH) is now restored on UHD and Blu-ray for the first time.

CLUB ZERO
(Blu-ray/DVD/Digital)
Film Movement

At an international boarding school, an unassuming, yet rigorous, Miss Novak (Mia Wasikowska) joins the teaching staff to instruct a new class on "conscious eating." Her impressionable teenage students each have their own reasons for joining the class – to improve fitness, reduce their carbon footprint, or get extra credit. Although early lectures focus on mindful consumption, Miss Novak's discussions soon become increasingly disordered and extreme. A suspicious headmistress (Sidse Babbett Knudsen), concerned parents and the failing health of her students lead everyone to question the inscrutable Miss Novak's motivations for teaching the class. As a few devoted pupils fall deeper under her cult-like tutelage, they are given a new, even more sinister goal to aspire to – joining the ominous "Club Zero." Combining a pitch-black comedic sensibility with elements of body horror, Club Zero satirizes contemporary inclinations toward myopic insularity and blind faith brought on by anxieties regarding food, consumerism and environmental catastrophe. A gem from Austrian writer/director Jessica Hausner, one of Europe's most fearless and provocative auteurs.

Despite being part of a young generation of Palestinian Arabs whose families chose to stay and challenge the Israeli state after Al-Nakba, 17-year-old Tamer and his friends are just like any other group of teenage boys. They clumsily search for drugs, flirt with girls, play video games, and slack off at school. However, when a beautiful new student named Maysaa joins their class Tamer immediately falls for her and, by association, is drawn into her political activism. Together they join fellow classmate, Safwat, in an operation to covertly raise the Palestinian flag and peacefully disrupt the local celebrations planned for Israel's Independence Day – otherwise known to Palestinians as a day of mourning and memorialization for their displacement 70 years prior. Unsure of his own political convictions, Tamer must quickly determine what matters to him and what price he is willing to pay for freedom. A skillful examination of the fraught political awakening young Palestinians are forced to undergo, this TIFF world premiere "perfectly captures teenage fearlessness and bravado along with a certain cluelessness about how the real-world works" (Variety). A striking debut feature film from Firas Khoury, ALAM, winner of Best Film at the Cairo Film Festival, marries conversations around nationalism and iconography with the universal themes of growing up.

YOUNGKIN CORRECT WITH VETO OF BILLS

Gov. Glenn Youngkin of Virginia recently vetoed two bills that would have revoked tax exemptions for the United Daughters of the Confederacy and remove all depictions of Robert E. Lee from the state's license plates.

These bills were pushed by nearly every Democrat in both chambers of the state's legislature. Virginia's past connection to the Confederacy and to slavery is still a source of contention especially by liberal Democrats obsessed with cancelling its history and culture.

Democrats are also obsessed with the very existence of the Daughter of the Confederacy and depict them as "historically pro-slavery institutions," which they are not. Wouldn't it be good if Virginia Democrats were concerned about the challenges facing Virginia today rather than digging through history to whack themselves over the head with.

LASER- FOCUSED BIDEN ON THE JOB

According to WH Press Secretary Karine Jean-Pierre the president has been so zoned in, so laser-focused on lowering costs for Americans and we've done that. I say "C'mon, Man." If what's happening today is because of his laser-focus, maybe he needs to focus on something else. Costs have soared 18 percent since 2020. Gasoline is up 74 percent. A recent Quinnipiac poll showed that nearly 75 percent of Americans see the economy as either "not so good" or "poor." This included 41 percent of Democrats, too.

LET'S TALK MUSIC NOW

The other day while driving to work, I listened to Paul McCartney & Wings singing "Goodnight Tonight," which was an old 1980 song. I loved it back then and still do today. Paul and Wings did some great music post-Beatles, didn't they? I also heard "Live or Let Die" by Paul McCartney back in 1973 from that Roger Moore James Bond movie. Back when I was 25 years old listening to that movie soundtrack by Sir Paul, the lyrics meant one thing but today when listening to the same lyrics, time has a way of changing what you hear. Hey, does anyone else know what I am saying? Let me know at sal.giarratani@gmail.com.

ANOTHER MUSICAL OPINION

Who remembers the band "Badfinger?" Another one of those great rock bands from back in the day. I love their hit song "Here I Come and Get It." Listening to their sound, I get confused because they sound so much like the Beatles. Same voice, same everything. Sometimes, I can't tell the difference. Who's the Beatles? Who's Badfinger? Check out and compare the sound for yourself.

DON'T FORGET

FRIDAY NIGHT (MAY 31ST)

Don't forget Wine & Craft Beer Tasting event over at Sacred Heart Parish in Eastie in the church parking lot from 7:00-10:00 p.m. For ticket information, call 617-567-5776. This is a 21+ event.

Dominic Petrosino and the band "Take Me Down" will be there, too. I heard the band last Saturday night down at the Beachmont VFW and the band was great and the place was packed.

Now, if you missed them last Saturday, you can see them this Friday night. C-mon down!
