MAZE (Blu-ray) Lightyear Ent.

Based on the incredible true story of the 1983 mass breakout of 38 IRA prisoners from the HMP Maze high security prison, Maze charts how inmate Larry Marley (Tom Vaughan-Lawlor), engineered the largest European prison escape since World War II. Up against the most state-of-the-art and secure prison in the whole of Europe - a prison within a prison - Larry must coordinate with inmates across several cell blocks. While scheming his way towards pulling off this feat, Larry forms a close bond with prison warden Gordon Close (Barry Ward). Both men are irrevocably changed by Larry's ultimate betrayal of trust when the breakout takes place, but their relationship represents the first green shoots of the eventual peace process. As both the epicenter of an enduring conflict and the source of its eventual resolution, the story of Maze is the story of the Troubles themselves, and their eventual resolution through cross-community dialog.

DOGMAN (DVD)
Magnolia Home Ent.

In a seaside village on the outskirts of an Italian city, where the only law seems to be survival of the fittest, Marcello is a slight, mild-mannered man who divides his days between working at his modest dog grooming salon, caring for his daughter Alida, and being coerced into the petty criminal schemes of the local bully Simoncino, an ex-boxer who terrorizes the neighborhood. When Simoncino's abuse finally brings Marcello to a breaking point, he decides to stand up for

TRAFFIC SQUEEZE

Politicians do the craziest things. You never know what's coming next. The latest idea emerging out of Boston City Hall is creating two-lane bicycle superhighways on our city streets and squeezing all motor vehicles down to one lane each way. I just heard that over in the South End, the city will be creating more lanes for bikes by shrinking down Tremont Street to one lane each way. This will do wonders for those driving on this roadway and should do wonders for local commerce, too.

When I was a kid I lived not far from Tremont Street and would often walk up there to catch a streetcar into town or to the Franklin Park Zoo. At that time, we had two lanes of traffic each way and a dedicated streetcar island in the center of the street. Everything moved quite well, but that was back when we had few bicyclists riding the roads.

Personally, I think if we are ceding over more and more road space to folks on bikes, the least they can do is obey the rules of the road like stopping for red lights, riding the wrong way, or turning right from the left lane, etc.

SLAVE MEMORIAL APPARENTLY POLITICALLY INCORRECT AT FANEUIL HALL?

Who really knows what led the NAACP Boston Branch to put the final nail in the cross on artist Steve Locke's Slave Memorial inside Faneuil Hall Marketplace, not far from where an auction block once stood centuries ago at this now tourist attraction. I thought the Auction Block Memorial could be a great conversation starter of where we are today and where slaves were once sold.

Apparently, there are some out there who so badly want Peter Faneuil to disappear from history that they can't even see the importance of this now defunct slave memorial. The NAACP Boston Branch has made an error in opposing Mr. Locke's memorial. A slave memorial will allow us to see how far we have come and how the struggle for human liberation is a never ending one.

The fight over Peter Faneuil's legacy can be fought without whitewashing history at the same time. We also need to overcome our obsession with politics, too. Mr. Locke has also made it clear that he is outta here and moving to New York where maybe they will appreciate what he is trying to say with his work. He has a right to feel anger at those who don't appreciate his work.

MOTOWN MUSIC SOON TO BE HERE

DON'T LOOK AT ME THAT WAY (DVD)

IndiePix Films
Hedi is the new neighbor of Iva, who raises her stepdaughter Sophia by herself. After Hedi meets Sophia, Iva's daughter, the two women become acquainted and eventually begin an amorous relationship. Although their relationship is passionate, Hedi is also attracted to men, and Iva, desperately in love, becomes deeply jealous. It seems however, that only one world exists for Hedi: her own. On a day when Iva's father makes plans to look after his granddaughter so the two women can spend time together, but when he doesn't arrive, Hedi goes searching and the story takes a surprising twist. This compelling examination of female roles, the power of sexuality, gender identity and alienation between cultures, collide in Don't Look At Me That Way. A German-Mongolian love drama, this film is a solid combination of a naturalistic style with an ever-present air of the surreal. MANIFEST: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON (DVD)

Warner Bros. Home Ent.
When Montego Air Flight 828 inexplicably disappeared on a trans-oceanic flight, and then landed safely after a turbulent but routine flight, the crew and passengers were relieved. Yet in the span of those few hours, the world had aged five years, and their friends, families and colleagues had given up hope, presuming that they had been lost at sea, and moved on after mourning their losses. Now, faced with the impossible, the survivors have been given a second chance. But as their new realities become clear, a deeper mystery unfolds, and some of the returned passengers soon realize they may be meant for something greater than they ever thought possible. Sixteen enthralling episodes from Oscar-winning filmmaker Robert Zemeckis, as he delivers an emotionally rich, unexpected journey into a world grounded in hope, heart and destiny.
