DON CHERRY & WILLIE NELSON / It's Magic (CATBONE)

What are you going to do with that incorrigible Nelson boy? Teaming up with fellow golfing Texan singer Cherry, a singer behind a lot of hits from the 50s, this is certainly one of Nelson's one for me albums. With Fred Foster in the booth and McCoy, Randolph et al in the studio, you know this album isn't a throwaway. This might be a strange and off beat album, but fans that have been waiting for a follow up to "Stardust" will be tickled. It's a strange little but well done album that could be more than a valentine to the hard core fans.
