

“Have you seen the Bob Gruen DVD [All Dolled Up]?” he asks. “It’s astonishing, and confirms what I’ve been saying about them for years. David Johansen was so clever for a 19-year-old; so witty, literate, unstoppable and here, finally it is on film. It was always frustrating to me, that the rest of the world wouldn’t take the things that were setting me alight. So it’s fascinating that in 2006 it all seems to make sense.”

– MORRISSEY

An excerpt from “Happy Now?” by Andrew Male found in the April 2006 issue of MOJO