MICAH SMITH

MATCHBOOK ROMANCE

MATCHBOOK ROMANCE has come a long way in a very short time. Their debut album, 2003's Stories and Alibis, has sold over 200,000 copies, and Matchbook Romance has performed three consecutive summers on the Warped Tour. Following the Valentine's Day release of their new album, Voices, the band will headline the Take Action Tour this spring. Produced by John Goodmanson (Death Cab for Cutie, Blonde Redhead, Bikini Kill), Voices is an ambitious album interlocking a mix of complex balladry and forward thinking rock. From the writing to the playing to the arrangements, Voices is a startling accomplishment for such a young band.

DEAD TO FALL is heading to Trax East Recording Studio to begin recording the follow-up to their acclaimed 2004 album, Villainy and Virtue, with producer Eric Rachel (Atreyu, God Forbid, The Dillinger Escape Plan). Paul Romano (Godflesh, Mastodon) returns to create artwork for the cover—his images for Villainy and Virtue were some of the most striking to appear that year. The tentative album title is Death and Rebirth, and singer Jon Hunt has said that it has a lot more classic metal elements than any previous Dead to Fall recordings. Expect the album to be released in the spring. In the meantime, Dead to Fall will be touring with Ion Dissonance, where new songs from the album will be performed.

SYSTEM OF A DOWN has released part two of their promised two-album set. Hypnotize, the band's fifth studio album, is available in both CD and DualDisc versions. The packaging for Hypnotize is specially designed to physically join Mezmerize and Hypnotize together, forming one unified package with continuous artwork. Additionally, the DualDisc edition contains a film by Gariné Torossian, which explores the making of both records. More importantly, the albums interlock musically. The final track on Hypnotize, "Soldier Side," completes "Soldier Side Intro," which appears as the opening track on Mezmerize.
