

THRASHER

July 2006

Other video stuff to check out: MVD continues to release concert DVDs of some of the legendary punk bands of the '70s and '80s. The most recent lot includes videos by Stiff Little Fingers, GBH, the Toy Dolls, and Sham 69. There's nothing particularly groundbreaking about them, they've got concert footage and interviews, but if you're a fan I thought you might like to know. It's interesting to see and hear the aging of some of punk's legends, but I wish these would come with more interesting bonus stuff (old footage, videos, etc.). You can consider them one step closer to actually going to live show than playing the record and shaking the cover...
