Bad Brains – Live At CBGB 1982 (MVD)

It's no secret that along with Bad Religion, I think the Bad Brains were the BEST HC band to have ever come out of the US. Hell, they're probably the best HC band the world has ever seen, period. Shot over three nights during Christmas 1982, 'Live At CBGB' captures the best moments of this incredible band, live, electric, buzzing with energy, doing what only they could and can do – that is, tear venues apart. This is Hardcore history folks, and there's no better band to learn with than the Bad Brains. Times were simpler, people were cooler and the music was a lot better. Don't believe me? Check it out for yourselves... Tim Mass
