Even the wildest beast knows mercy, but these are not Beasts!

Sebastian, a loner artist, photographer and filmmaker spends his days in the seediness of life's elements. Taking pictures, photographing violent acts and spending a lot of time watching homemade films filled with jarring imagery, Sebastian also happens to be the landlord in his building.

He has also suffered an abused childhood, be subjected to sleep deprivation and constant home videos. Things begin to change for him when an apartment tenant, Sarah Roeg, begins to take interest in his work and Sebastian himself.
