The Discovery Of Eilleen Twain
CD / DVD combo pack available on February 11

Featuring early footage and songs from Shania Twain, when she was still struggling artist Eilleen Twain.

Eilleen Twain got her first break in the late 80s in Viva Vegas, a legendary Vegas style resort show produced by Brian Ayers at Deerhurst Inn Resort in Ontario, Canada.

Vegas North brings revealing interviews with former cast members and music veterans of that era, taking you back to Eilleen's roots along with footage of her heartfelt renditions of "Somewhere Out There" and "Somewhere Over The Rainbow."

The Bonus CD, Eilleen Twain: Beginnings 1989-1990 features ten re-mastered songs Shania's early career. The tracks are just what the title indicates: the beginnings - tunes intended to be used as demos to draw attention to a young and struggling singer who would become a country diva known and loved and the world.
