

Music

With GAVIN MARTIN

THIS WEEK'S UNMISSABLE
MOVIES, DVDS,
MUSIC, GIGS
& GAMES

THE TICKET
NOVEMBER 9, 2012

Album releases

CHRISTINA AGUILERA

Lotus ★★★

STAND OUT ALBUM

Over the course of six previous albums, Aguilera has embraced every genre from old school jazz to heavy metal. Lotus touches on several of them and, while it's an album that confirms the impression of a lady who is more than a little full of herself, it is no doubt set to ensure her success continues to blossom.

BRIAN ENO

Lux ★★★★★

The brainbox former Roxy Music legend makes big bucks producing Coldplay and U2, allowing him time to fashion his lustrous ambient music. In the third sequence of his Music For Thinking series, the unfolding piano melodies and synthesised atmospherics offer beauty in contemplation aplenty.

THE ROLLING STONES

Grrr! ★★★

History dictates that as the Stones get older, successive compilations become inferior. The third CD of this collection inevitably eases up on the solid gold of the 60s and 70s classics, but Doom And Gloom, one of two brand new songs, shows an upswing in fortunes. They might have a future.

AMY WINEHOUSE

At The BBC ★★★

In her short life, Amy Winehouse had an eventful relationship with BBC radio and TV. This four-disc set (three DVDs, one CD) is an opportunity to revel in her majesty, from the assured newcomer on You Know Me (2004) to the tragic superstar emotionally unravelling on Love Is A Losing Game five years later.

PUBLIC ENEMY

Most Of My Heroes Still Don't Appear On No Stamp ★★★

The Evil Empire Of Everything ★★★

Refusing to be seduced by sell out or bling materialism, Public Enemy's Chuck D remains a tower of strength. His songs of protest and action hold firm, his mighty delivery, giving purpose and clarity to the 13th and 14th albums of the band's career, released to mark their 25th Anniversary.