The megalopolis that is Tokyo, Japan is home to some of our favorite musicians, but there's so much more amazing music in the sprawling city than the human brain can really even contemplate. That's why we're really proud of the guys who made Live From Tokyo, a documentary about Tokyo's music scene featuring everyone from blues rock stalwarts DMBQ, to rock/hip hop/jazz savants Uhnellys, and even psych-folkies Tenniscoats. It took courage to do what they did.

The DVD, directed by Lewis Rapkin, comes out tomorrow on Good Charamel Records. The soundtrack to the album is included as a digital download with the DVD and a portion of the proceeds from sales will go to the Red Cross Tsunami relief fund in Japan.

And check out the trailer for a glimpse of the mad multiplicity that characterizes Tokyo's independent scene:
