

SEPTEMBER 5(Blu-ray/Digital)Paramount Home Ent.

September 5 is a gripping and visceral thriller based on real events. The film details the hostage crisis at the 1972 Munich Olympics through the eyes of the American sports producers who covered the event live and changed television news forever. During the 1972 Munich Olympics, a hostage crisis pushes legendary TV executive Roone Arledge (Peter Sarsgaard) to thrust an untested sports producer, Geoff Mason (John Magaro), into the spotlight of breaking news coverage. With lives hanging in the balance and the world watching, this pivotal moment, based on a true story, reshaped journalism forever. Some of the exciting bonus content includes: Remaking Broadcast History — Join actors Peter Sarsgaard, John Magaro, Ben Chaplin, and more as they share the challenges of portraying the real people tasked with reporting on the world's first televised hostage crisis. A Meticulous Undertaking — See how an empty space was transformed into a stunning replica of the iconic 1972 broadcast studio where the ABC Sports team witnessed the unfolding tragedy. On The Global Stage — The 1972 Munich Olympics marked a turning point in history, where the line between journalism and complicity blurred. Delve into the ethical and journalistic dilemmas faced by the team as they weighed reporting the news and potentially fueling further violence.

NADIA*(DVD)IndiePix Films

How can you rebuild yourself when you lose a parent and your homeland forever at the tender age of 8? Nadia Nadim, whose father was killed by the Taliban in 2000, has embarked on this difficult quest and her incredible life — from her family's escape from violence-marred Kabul to the very pinnacle of international soccer fame is the stirring story that unfolds in Nadia, a feature-length documentary. Celebrate Nadia's improbable story and the passion for soccer that gave her a new post-Kabul life, as she rose through the ranks to become a feared striker on the national team of her adoptive country, Denmark, and for Paris-Saint-Germain, one of the top women's teams in the world. But having achieved soccer stardom, Nadia wants to return to her home country to find out more about her father's fate. But as the country is devastated by terrorism, with the Taliban and ISIS sowing chaos daily, she's forced to cancel and grieve another loss. However, Nadia is unsinkable and has big plans for the future: graduate as a reconstructive surgeon and help to save people's lives.

DINNER WITH LEATHERFACE*(Blu-ray)Anchor Bay Ent.

Documentary about Gunnar Hansen, the actor who portrayed Leatherface in 'The Texas Chainsaw Massacre' (1974). Friends, colleagues, filmmakers, and fellow actors share personal stories and discuss the dichotomy between the maniacal chainsaw-wielding character he played on-screen and the very intelligent, creative, soft-spoken man he actually was in real life.

DADDY (Blu-ray)Anchor Bay Ent.

Four men attend a government retreat to prove that they have what it takes to become fathers. In a dystopian society where the state has the power to determine who can and cannot father children, four men attend a government sanctioned retreat in the remote mountains of California. When they show up at the site, only to find no guide or instructions waiting for them, they are left to their own devices and must prove to themselves — and each other — that they have what it takes to become fathers.

FURIOUS(VISUAL VENGEANCE COLLECTOR'S EDITION)(Blu-ray)Libra Verde Media

The cult martial arts classic available for the first time ever on Blu-ray with hours of bonus features. Simon, a fierce Kung Fu master, ventures into the city's gritty underbelly for answers to his sister's death. There, a cunning spiritual master deceives him, plotting to snatch his piece of an ancient amulet he shared with her. Unraveling the scheme, Simon plunges fists and feet first into a bone-crushing battle for the fate of the world against an alien army of karate wizards, dragons, a new wave clone band, talking pigs and mystical chickens! One of the most bizarre domestic martial arts movies ever made, Furious throws the 1980s home video chopsocky craze in a blender with elements of the supernatural, horror and superhero genres, by way of an improvised MTV video. Featuring Hollywood martial arts legends Simon and Phillip Rhee in their first ever starring roles and who also handled all the non-stop action choreography on display in the film.

KUDOS TO ADRIAN MADARO

During the last legislative session, Rep. Madaro along with his colleagues on Beacon Hill helped assemble legislation in response to the ongoing opioid crisis. This bill was signed into law this past December, which will better support folks seeking treatment and recovery across the state. This law will hopefully ensure that substance abuse disorder will remain accessible and affordable.

I LOVE TRUMP BUT SOMETIMES HE CAN MAKE MY HEAD HURT

There are times when President Trump makes some of those outbursts that have often made my head hurt and he did it again recently when he quickly blamed DEI policies for that horrendous mid-air crash between a passenger plane and an Army Black Hawk helicopter. He doesn't have to instantly name DEI as the culprit. How about waiting for the facts in the crash to be sorted out. It looks more and more like DEI didn't play a role in this crash. There were multiple issues to be looked at without jumping to conclusions.

Then to make matters worse both Vice President JD Vance and Transportation Secretary Sean Duffy joined Trump in blaming diversity policies at the FAA for the mid-air collision. Before delivering a fact, you should be able to offer evidence for what you are saying. I am tending to agree with Michael McCormick, a former vice president of the FAA Air Traffic Organization who oversaw hiring of air traffic controllers during his tenure. McCormick stated that Trump, Vance and Duffy were making "baseless claims."

If FAA diversity policies were to blame for what happened in the skies over Reagan National Airport, with Trump in the White House, there will be no cover ups or gaslighting.

Remember that old saying. Don't start talking until you know what you're talking about. Trump is refreshing but sometimes he keeps sending most of us to the medicine cabinet for some pain relief medicine.

Y'ALL KNOW BY NOW I LOVE MY COUNTRY MUSIC

I love driving around in my car either going to work or to a restaurant or whatever with country music cranked up inside. I am always dialed into Willie's Roadhouse on Sirius Radio, 61 on the dial. Willie Nelson is one of my favorite singers and the other day I started singing out loud with him in my grey Nissan to "Yesterday's Wine."

Some songs are just made for old cowboys, aren't they? Here's a good question for you. Willie didn't sing it but these lyrics are definitely to his style. What are the four things old cowboys maybe like you or I always need having? Give Up? Faster horses, younger women, older whiskey and more money and, of course if it's possible, never go bald.

MONUMEN TAILS IS HERE TO HELP

As a longtime pet owner over the years, I have had both cats and dogs and I know how complicated things can get. What if you wanted to go on vacation, working or might be working late? What to do with your dog? I always like highlighting local business entrepreneurs and introducing their services to the communities they serve.

In Charlestown last week at the post office I found some business cards for doggie care, like dog walking, dog sitting, etc. The business is called Monumen Tails. For more info, go to monumentails.com or call 857-437-7380. All walks are TimeToPet verified!!

$155K PAY BOOST FOR BEING POC FEMALE

According to the NY Board of Regents, NY's state schools chief Betty Rosa deserved a $155,000 pay raise because she says women of color "have historically been subjected to lower compensation rates compared with their peers."

The Board made this decision even though Rosa, the State Education Department commissioner and Board Chair, made thousands more than the person she replaced.

The board went into defense mode after it was revealed that Rosa, the first Latina to hold this position, quietly boosted her pay to $489,000 on top of her $120,000 pension as a retired principal and superintendent.

Politics sucks doesn't it? I give kudos to Katy Delgado, a spokesperson for the 22-member NY Senate GOP conference, for lashing out in all this crazy stuff and in a statement said, "New Yorkers with common sense, regardless of their political affiliation, know irresponsible spending when they see it. Using the issue of race to distract from the failures of the State Department of Education." She called this action and the response after getting backlash as "the very definition of gaslighting."

No matter how many times you put the dagger into the heart of Dracula disguised as DEI, the damn thing just won't die.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ...

Former Vice President Dan Quayle just turned 78 years old. He was elected in 1988 as Vice President under George HW Bush. He served one term with Bush, before Bill Clinton in 1992, when Bush broke his promise that he would not raise taxes. So, the voters pushed him out of office. Quayle, by the way, will always be remembered for incorrectly spelling the word "potato" with that extra "e" at the end of the word. Sometimes "small potatoes" can be "large potatoes."

HOLLYWOOD LOOKING TO MAKE A KILLING?

September 5, which will revisit the 1972 Summer Olympics Games hostage crisis, is a powerful topic and movie. Stephen Spielberg has already done Munich. Hollywood apparently thinks the ongoing conflict between Israel and Hamas makes this upcoming movie timely. We know the next such movie might even be called "October 7" right?

Nothing like using shootings, killings, maiming's and hostage taking to make a few bucks at the box office, eh?

JOSH KRAFT IS RUNNING FOR MAYOR BUT ...

I liked hearing from a new political candidate who has a voice and isn't afraid to use it. I also think every mayor needs to be challenged. However, I was not terribly impressed by his words. I did like that he supports making the Boston School Committee partially elected. I would have preferred he was supportive of just having an elected board where the people, the parents, the stakeholders of public education in this city had a real voice in the inner workings and policies that our city children must endure. Partial boards are better than fully appointed boards but I want the direct election of the entire school board put before the voters of this city at election time.

I did get a good laugh out of Mayor Michelle Wu calling Kraft a carpetbagger. I think a Chicago suburb is a lot further away than Chestnut Hill. When it comes to carpeting and bagging, it takes one to know one.

The one thing I didn't like is that, according to media reports, Kraft is apparently okay with the Boston Trust Act which means he is a sanctuary city kind of politician. I am not a sanctuary city kind of voter. What do you say?
