Lee "Scratch" Perry will release a new album, "Revelation" on August 10, 2010. The reggae legend and king of dub will continue to spread the dub with a follow up to recent Grammy-nominated albums. Last year, The Upsetter released 'Scratch Came Scratch Saw Scratch Conquered.'

Recorded at the Jamaican-born Perry's studio in Switzerland and studios in California, New York, and England, Revelation will feature Rolling Stones guitarist Keith Richards, George Clinton, Dr Sleepy, Alec Hay, Steve Marshall, elodieO & Abi Browning, Duncan & Green, Tim Hill, and David Stewart Jones.

Perry won a Grammy Award for Best Reggae Album for his Jamaican E.T.. In 2004.

Preliminary tour dates announced for Perry's upcoming tour will feature his unique brand of reggae. Last year, Perry played shows including a memorable one at Hollywood's Key Club.

A Megawave Records release, Revelation will be distributed by MVD Audio.

The upcoming album is the third in a series of collaborations with UK multi-instrumentalist Steve Marshall, following the controversial Scratch Came, Scratch Saw, Scratch Conquered and the Grammy-nominated The End of An American Dream.

The upcoming album by Perry, a brilliant lyricist, will likely bring controversy with its track 'Freaky Michael.'

The new album will start another State of Emergency as fans scramble to get tickets to see Perry on his upcoming tour.
