THE START OF WORLD WAR I

Last year, was the 100th Anniversary of the ending of World War I, and TODAY June 28th, is the 105th Anniversary of the start of World War I when Arch Duke Ferdinand was assassinated along with his wife Sophia while riding in a horse drawn carriage in what was then Yugoslavia. An anarchist murdered the Royal Family and it led to a chain of events that began World War I; reminding everyone that a small act of violence can lead to war.

By the way, back when I was a 13-year-old kid in the South End, my next door neighbor was an elderly guy who served in both WWI, and previous to that went up San Juan Hill with Col. Teddy Roosevelt as a Rough Rider.

I now consider him my first interviewed subject. You can read about history but nothing like talking to someone who was actually making history. Too bad, I didn't own a camera back then.
