Documentary – 60 minutes

Description: This compelling documentary series unlocks the hidden secrets, psychological flaws and events that result in the tragic deaths of famed notorious and the iconic. Every episode maps out the final 24 hours of a different famous person's life. The series weaves the star's back-story with events from their last day, which lays bare the threads of fate that led inextricably from childhood to the moment of death. These are no ordinary biographies. They're psychological detective stories attempting to uncover the mystery of why the celebrity died. April 18, 1993: One of the most notorious religious leaders in the United States, David Koresh, and 83 of his followers have been trapped inside their Waco, Texas compound for over 50 days. Unwilling to surrender and surrounded by authorities, the siege is the longest modern-day standoff in American law enforcement history. In 24 hours, however, it will all be over... And Koresh and 73 others will be dead. Featuring archival footage, dramatic reenactments, and key interviews, we'll document the final moments of the infamous preacher's life.

I remember watching this story unfold on live TV and being saddened by what I was hearing about Koresh and the actions of the authorities. And I hope that we will not see anything like this happen again.

It was interesting for me to watch this with my teens who are too young to have watched the live coverage.

The documentary gave a good 60 minute overview of the last hours along with some of the history that led up to it. The facts are presented in a compassionate way that puts a human perspective on the people involved in this difficult situation.
