TIDBITS OF TERROR FROM THE DEADLY INDIE DRIVE IN

An interesting little film from the beautiful Geraldine Winters, one of the coolest looking clown killers ive ever seen in a movie, great gore, decent acting & overall a very well shot film I recommend this!

The Green Monster is a very well acted film, great gore, and very unique little movie, Im going to have to watch this again to figure it out which is not a bad thing, I love it when i come across something original like The green monster definitely pick this one up people
RANK 8/10

This was a fun movie to watch
Night of the Living dead reanimated opens with a very cool intro from the legendary Count gor de vol, The film is an animated version of the George romero classic, 100 different artists contributed to the film, the original audio is intact, i think this was a great idea the only problem i had with this is iT felt Like it was a little to crammed and that some of the footage didnt belong, for instance the actual animation that moved and was drawn was awesome, there was too much still art put in and way too many portions where they used barbie dolls or other actors with cartoon mouths that i didnt feel went well, if the producers would have taken the best of the drawn moving cartoon pieces and got rid of the barbie doll stuff this would have been a lot better in my opinion, in anycase its fun to watch and a very creative effort

Ahhh, Clownstrophobia. It wasn't the most original film, and it started off pretty shaky, but in the end I thought it turned out pretty well. Gotta love them killer clowns!
