MVD Visual is offering the new documentary, "I Need That Record! The Death (Or Possible Survival Of The Independent Record Store" this Saturday as part of the Record Store Day festivities. Brendan Toller shot the film, which features discussions and commentary with Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore, Fugazi's Ian Mackaye, author Noam Chomsky, The Minutemen's Mike Watt, Talking Heads' Chris Frantz, and others. The documentary will be available at participating stores for 90 days, before its wide release July 27th.
