Didn't know what to expect with this dvd and really thought I'd be cutting it shorter than its 95 minutes. But, hey, how wrong can you be. Briefly then, in 2005, a package from London was delivered to the Hollywood offices of Highway 61 Entertainment. Inside were two tapes labelled 'The last testament of George Harrison'.

Obviously it wasn't him talking; in fact, sounded nothing like him to be fair, but the voice told the story of how Paul was killed in a car crash in 1966 and replaced by a double named William Campbell. M15 get involved, forcing the remaining Beatles to cover up Paul's tragic death to prevent mass suicides of group fans. John Lennon, in particular, was so incensed at this gagging order that he became reckless in leaving a trail of clues on record artwork, in song lyrics and in vinyl reverse playing - which we've all done in our time. Great fun. Of course, Paul is alive and kicking and although the whole situation is illogical and totally unreal, it's also extremely entertaining.

Different folks see different things, and it's so easy to believe and see things that aren't actually there. More like coincidental; or as my friend is prone to say - spooky! Obviously I won't go into detail here because that'd spoil the fun, but will say 'Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band' is a dead giveaway. Oops, shouldn't have said that! The dvd also includes off-the-wall items like John's assassination, right through to Heather Mills. Without doubt a must for a Beatle fan!
