

TRAVELING LIGHT

Three practical ideas that will make your before, during and after vacation a breeze TEXT Obie Espinosa

THERE'S nothing better than a little vacay (especially when someone else is paying). But traveling can be such a hassle! The planning alone can exhaust you, but then you gotta worry about packing, navigating and then having to enjoy and retain all the fabulousness you're taking in—we're a little stressed just thinking about it! Thank goodness we get to tell you about three things to make traveling easier!

TINY PACKS, HUGE HELP

IF WE lose one more bottle of age-defying eye cream because it's over the 3.5 fl oz limit...well, that's a thing of the past, now! Not because TSA has changed its rules, but because 3floc.com has come to our rescue.

This life-saver-of-a-website carries all your favorite grooming brands and personal care products—all 3 ounces or less! Whether you want to pick and choose between all the Anthony For Men, Art Of Shaving or any of the dozens of other quality brands, or go with the ready-made kits (including the Men on The Go pack), your 3floc.com order can be shipped anywhere in the world, including auto upgrades to overnight shipping if your flight is leaving within 72 hours!

PASSPORT PROTECTOR

REMEMBER when you used to tell someone you were about to travel overseas and then had to sit through 30 minutes of warnings about not having your passport stolen? You can cut those "opinions" by others short now by simply telling them you are smart enough to be carrying a Kena Kai DataSafe Wallet. And more than just good looks, we're thinking this passport wallet is the only way to do international travel because it protects against a different type of threat.

No, not the language-barrier tourist trap. Identity theft. Kena Kai Wallets and Passport Wallets use an exclusive radio-frequency blocking lining to protect the personal data stored on the documents and cards that we can't travel without. That means no sci-fi trickery where thieves can steal by scanning. Because in our techno age, troublemakers don't need the physical docs anymore, just the info on them.

The collection, tested and approved that meet the government's strict new security guidelines, is available starting at $50 at kenakai.com.

TACTILE MEMORIES

FLIPPING through photo albums and hour-long slide shows of your vacation are so yesterday. Show off where ya been—and refresh your own memory—via a Globee. Part souvenir/part city map, Globees are crafted pieces of art that highlight famous spots and streets in some of the best cities in the world!

From the skyscrapers of New York to the remnants of the wall in Berlin, each Globee shows off the unique and interesting in cities worthy of a prominent place on your bookshelf. Plus, each Globee also comes with a detailed 16-page booklet explaining the significant sites—so you sound like you were even paying attention during that bus tour. Go to globee.co.uk

PRIZE PATROL: SWAG SWAP

CLEARLY we've been spending too much time closing down the bars and not enough time organizing our Prize Patrol. Because what started off as a goulish-themed giveaway has turned into a menagerie of movies! Throw in a little Kylie, coupled with some aliens, cross-dressers an a psycho (both in Russell Brand and Hitchcock), and what do you get? Instinct's Halloween cauldron of swag!

How do you get to bob in our bucket? Tell us your big Halloween plans for 2010—in 150 words or less—and e-mail your entry, along with your full name, mailing address, preferred title and format to prizepatrol@instinctmag.com!

- Robin Hood
9/21
- Kylie
10/19
- Psycho
10/19
- Alien Anthology
10/26
- The Rocky Horror Picture Show
9/21
- Get Him To The Greek
9/28