Assault of the Sasquatch (2009) Movie ReviewAssault of the Sasquatch 2009

directed by: Andrew Gernhard

MVD distributions

84 mins.

reviewer: James DePaolo

Plot - When a merciless bear poacher is caught and arrested deep in the woods of a state park, he and his truck are taken to a neglected precinct in the city. Unbeknownst to the authorities, the impounded truck holds a deadly cargo in the form of the Sasquatch.

Review- I want to do something different. I want to tell you about the special features first. They have this rap video for a song called get this..Booty Poppin', and the Sasquatch is in it dancing and acting like he is a gangster. This in itself is worth a watch alone. It was utter ridiculous. Now onto the movie. This movie has so many side plots. There is a revenge aspect, where a cop arrests a guy for speeding that was responsible for killing his wife as we find out. A daughter who doesn't get along with her dad. And we find all this out, while Sasquatch is trying to kill them. There is also these 2 nerdy guys who I think are supposed to be the comic portion of the movie. They absolutely blew. They were neither funny or even worth mentioning. They were part of the Sasquatch Society. They go all over with their video camera looking for anything that resembles a Sasquatch. The script is non existent, and the characters are decent to boring at best. But what holds this movie from being a total failure was some really cool kills in this movie, and some of the jokes do at times work. One which involves a police secretary who is also a bad ass and tries to fight the animal. As a whole, it was ok. Not the best, or worst..it was just ok...

On a scale one to ten..I will give this barely a 6
