Scream Queens Double Feature and Scream Dream

In Scream Dream, flash-in-the-pan Carol Carr plays heavy-metal singer Michelle Shocked (no relation to the folk singer), who's apparently sold her soul to the devil. After fans begin disappearing, she's fired by the band's image-conscious manager. It isn't long before Shocked's replacement joins the coven, as well. That's about it. The cinematography stinks and the music isn't much better.

Legitimate scream queens Melissa Moore, Veronica Carothers and Jasae star in the Double Feature: Swimsuit Sensations and Knockout Workout. Neither amounts to anything more than a compendium of the women's favorite exercises and swimsuit designs. The ladies also tell their life stories, which aren't terribly interesting, either.
