Aaah! Zombies!! (Level 33 Entertainment DVD)

Picture: C Sound: C
Extras: D Main Program: B+

When a military experiment gone wrong is mixed with ice cream, beer and bowling night, it turns into a night of zombies. When four friends just having a usual night at the bowling alley, they get a little something extra in their food and suddenly they have strange cravings and everyone around them seem to have gone mad and is trying to kill them. As they struggle to find out what happened and why they learn quickly what zombie has to do to survive. ~After all, a zombie gotta to eat too...

Four friends are accidentally turned into zombies (unknowingly to themselves) after one of their friends decides to mix beer into the tainted ice cream, which was infected from a runaway toxic barrel that fell off a military truck earlier. To each other they look normal, but in reality to the rest of the world they look like rotting corpses. They are shot, stabbed, burned and dismembered (and they still somehow can't die), that is until they meet a janitor from the military who claims that they have been exposed chemical that has turned them into 'super soldiers'. As they try and get back to their normal lives they soon find out people and zombies don't exactly mix.

This is more of a comedy than horror show, if zombies could talk (and to each other) what would they say? Watch four clueless teenage zombies as they fumble around as they try and find out what happened to them.

The film flips back and forth between their views as zombies and how the rest of world sees them. The film takes the classical stereotyped zombies and attempts explain zombie logic, that zombies aren't actually mindless, they still can think and feel, but just move a little slower. The characters get into various comical situations while they are being chased the military who wants to see them really dead. If you like zombies and light hearted humor this film is just right for those like to laugh at or with the undead.
