EAST BAY RAY & THE KILLER SMILES
- "AREA 51"

The Jesus Lizard - "Club" DVD Review (MVD Visual)

When thinking about audience-baiting lead signers, David Yow ranks up there with likes of Tesco Vee and Lee Ving. The Jesus Lizard's new DVD, Club, captures the first night of the band's 2009 reunion tour and Yow started off the set with the 'joke': "What's the difference between Farah Fawcett and Michael Jackson? About 5 hours" before the band launched into an explosive version of "Puss".

Age hasn't slowed The Jesus Lizard and you wouldn't know by how tight they sounded that this was the band's first US show in over ten years. Once launched, the band didn't slow their hammering rhythms and Yow was in the crowd from the first song onward and had his shirt off by the fourth. While Yow made some crack about apologizing for his belly, he did some mad leaps and dives into the crowd that would put a younger stage diver to shame. Surprisingly, all of his clothes stayed on and he only pulled his d*ck out while singing "Blockbuster".
