

THE PLAIN DEALER

"The Story of Rock 'n' Roll Comics"

Controversial Los Angeles publisher Todd Loren produced unauthorized comic book biographies of rock stars that some loved and others hated. He was threatened with lawsuits by Bon Jovi, Guns N' Roses and Skid Row and then brutally murdered in 1992. This 2005 documentary uses interviews with stars such as Alice Cooper and Mojo Nixon, animation and home video to tell Loren's story. Unrated, 84 minutes. DVD extras: more than two hours of material, including TV clips, commercials, news stories, a cover art gallery, liner notes and alternate and extended interviews. From MVD Visual. Released April 24.

- Chris Ball