Rating: A tremendous FLOOR STOMP 4/10!

Ignitor – Year Of The Metal Tiger

Ignitor is a throwback to the old days of metal. Where denim and leather were the keys and soaring vocals and shout out loud choruses were the tickets to success. More akin to the likes of Judas Priest and Saxon; Ignitor puts forth a stellar effort with “Year Of The Tiger.” Songs like “Heavy Metal Holocaust” and “The Kaiser” are great metal anthems that any fan of NWOBHM should check out. Not to mention the old school thrash metal sound with those fantastic soaring vocals of Jason McMaster. Ignitor is one of the better bands that I have heard trying to incorporate this sound.

Rating: 8/10

Steel Assassin – WWII: Metal of Honor

An album that ties into the story of World War II? Yeah that has my history buff name written all over it! Steel Assassin has been around for thirty years off and on but only in the past five or so have they really been active. Such a damn shame, this album is full of great classic, thrash, and power metal moments that could have really blossomed the band and turned them into a great commodity over the past thirty years. But they are active now and that is what matters I suppose. Songs like the opener “God Save London” and on
