JULY 20, 2012 – Dead men collect no debts! Many of you out there may have heard of Darren Ward's A DAY OF VIOLENCE and the overwhelmingly positive press surrounding the film, including a review from Wildside Cinema [HERE], well now American distributor MVD is set to release this gritty crime flick stateside on August 21, 2012. Packed with fantastic extras including a never-before-seen "making of" featurette (1h 20mins), deleted scenes, extended scenes, a photo gallery and a special effects featurette! While many labels would have simply slapped the film on a bare bones disc and shipped it, MVD will be giving the fans exactly what they want...which is more A DAY OF VIOLENCE.

If you've not heard anything of the film, here's the official synopsis taken from MVD:

Mitchell Parker lies dead on a morgue slab. In life, Mitchell served the low ranks of Debt Collectors, surrounded by all the filth and scum that the world had to offer. He thought his luck was in when, on a routine collection, he stumbles across 100,000 in cash, hidden in the sofa of one of his clients. A dark and haunting past hangs over the head of Mitchell Parker, one that will lead him on a journey of redemption and ultimately sacrifice. Hunted by the gang whose money he has stolen, he must evade capture and use the money to rid himself of his demons once and for all. Witness his last days of life.

A DAY OF VIOLENCE has already been heating up film fests around the world including the UK's Portsmouth Film Festival 2009 (Voted BEST SPECIAL EFFECTS), Brazil's Cinefantasy 2011 (Voted BEST SPECIAL MAKEUP EFFECTS) and Germany's Weekend of Fear 2012 (Voted BEST FEATURE). Fangoria Magazine has said, "A Day of Violence is a rousing, sickening success" and Fantasporto has called it, "An orgy of sex and violence" if that doesn't sound like a film worth checking out, I don't know what does!
