Joel Gilbert will soon release a full-length documentary entitled, "Dreams from My Real Father."

He argues that Kenyan, Barack Obama, Sr., is not the real father of President Obama; but a figure that once had ties to the Atlanta area named Frank Marshall Davis.

In 1931, he was editor of the semiweekly paper in Atlanta. Davis transformed the Atlanta Daily World into a daily newspaper within two years of taking the job as the paper's managing editor.

Under Davis's leadership, the newspaper became the nation's first successful black daily. Jerome R. Corsi in his article for WND (<http://www.wnd.com/2012/04/film-presidents-father-not-barack-obama/>) – (World News Daily) recounts the allegations made by Joel Gilbert who produced the documentary that will be released in July, 2012.

Joel Gilbert contends that the book written by President Obama before his presidency entitled, "Dreams from my Father," was nothing more than a cover up of an affair his mother had with a Frank Marshall Davis which resulted in the birth of the president.

Rejecting the official story that the president's father was a goat farmer (turned foreign exchange student in America), he alleges that this is far from the truth. He contends that Davis is actually his father; and was his mentor for decades by teaching that America was a failure and that the remedy will be Communism. There is a video embedded in this article showing the many statements made by President Obama which would indicate his communist leanings.

Can American voters believe anything they see and hear today in the media? There are a lot of indications that would make it possible for Davis to be his real father – there seems to be a lot more to the president's life than meets the American eye. If he fooled America, did he also fool the family of Barack Obama, Sr. and his family in Africa? Apparently, his mother was married to the Kenyan Obama at the time.

The source of this information is from an article written by Jerome R. Corsi for WND. You may ask who is Jerome R. Corsi? His bio at the top of his articles gives this information.

"Jerome R. Corsi, a Harvard Ph.D., is a WND senior staff reporter. He has authored many books, including No. 1 N.Y. Times best-sellers "The Obama Nation" and "Unfit for Command." Corsi's latest book is "Where's the REAL Birth Certificate?"

Joel Gilbert reports many excerpts from the life of Frank Marshall Davis and provided nude photos of Obama's mother, Ann, found in his possession indicating an intimate type relationship between the two. He contends that Davis and Dunham had an affair which resulted in the conception of Barack Obama; and the rest of the story regarding his birth and parentage was fiction and a cover-up.

Frank Marshall Davis later wrote in a book giving details of a scandalous, autobiographical sex novel, titled "Sex Rebel: Black," in which he detailed an illicit sexual relationship with an underage woman named "Anne." Gilbert believes the name was a thin disguise for Obama's mother, Stanley Ann Dunham. Was it?

You will also find more information about President Obama's relationship with known social and communist activists which seemed to have played important roles in his life.

Joel Gilbert states: "To understand Obama's plans for America, look no further than Communist Frank Marshall Davis."

They publish what they say is the truth about Obama's real heritage; and his philosophical agenda of changing America via Frank Marshall Davis, Bill Ayers, Saul Alinsky, and Jeremiah Wright's teachings.

There is enormous evidence that Frank Marshall Davis was a radical poet and journalist; but also was a card carrying member of the Communist Party here in America. Bio of Frank Marshall Davis (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Frank\_Marshall\_Davis) as written in Wikipedia.

It may just be ironic; but Davis seemed to live in places that would put him in contact with Obama's mother and grandparents, i.e. Kansas, Hawaii, and Chicago. Davis was a poet, a journalist, and community organizer in Chicago.

In this documentary film, soon to be released, Gilbert explains what he feels is the striking physical resemblance of Obama to Davis; rather than to Obama, Sr.

While many have also been included, it appears that Frank Marshall Davis \(http://www.wnd.com/2012/04/film-presidents-father-not-barack-obama/\) had a great impact and impression on the life of the young Obama in his formative years. The question that continues to loom large is why we have a sitting president in the United States of America; and so little is actually known about him; and all his vital and educational records have been sealed away from public view.

Apparently missing is any substance that President Obama had any Christian teaching, as he claims, in his formative years. He attended a Muslim school in Indonesia. His mother was an avowed atheist; as were others in his life.

There does not seem to be any connection to President Obama and the Christian faith other than his attendance in the church where his pastor stated, "Death to whitey!" And, "God damn America!" He has not been a regular church attendee since elected; and does not honor National Day of Prayer; but other ethnic/ religious observances.

Parents can only wonder what stories the Obamas tell their two American born daughters?

This will surely be reported, rebutted, retold, and rehashed as Election Day 2012 looms forward.
