

<http://www.usnews.com/opinion/blogs/robert-schlesinger/2012/05/18/the-birthers-are-back-might-keep-obama-off-arizona-ballot>

Perhaps the most innovative take on birtherism to surface this week is a new anti-Obama "documentary" which proffers a new Obama birth theory that undercuts traditional birtherism. The movie, Dreams From My Real Father, which is narrated by an Obama impersonator, asserts, as Talking Points Memo reports, "that Obama's grandfather wasn't a furniture salesman but an undercover CIA agent who convinced Barack Obama Sr. to marry his teenage daughter to hide the fact that she was impregnated by a 55-year-old communist named Frank Marshall Davis." So not a Kenyan radical, merely a commie-by-birth.

Wow, more than a year after Obama after the president released his birth certificate birtherism hasn't gone away. Who could have seen that coming?

- Robert Schlesinger