"Iran is likely to have its own nuclear bomb within two years, according to press reports cited by Jane's Defense Weekly. The magazine, part of the authoritative Jane's Publications on weapons systems, said Tuesday that reports from the Persian Gulf region last week indicated the bomb was being produced at a nuclear power plant in Boushahar, southern Iran."

"Dreams From My Real Father" versus the Birthers

It's the Clash of the Loony Titans. What happens when the Bedbug-Crazies square off against the Tinfoil Hat brigade? Who wins?

Dreams From My Real Father is a rightwing wackjob "documentary" that tells the "real" history of Barack Obama.

Step aside, Birthwads — there's a new Screaming Meme in town. "Dreams From My Real Father" is narrated by an Obama impersonator who says the documentary is "the story I would have told if I were being honest with you."

This is too convoluted to try translating, so I'm just gonna quote directly from the linked article: "Obama" tells us that his grandfather was "an undercover CIA agent who convinced Barack Obama Sr. to marry his teenage daughter to hide the fact that she was impregnated by a 55-year-old communist named Frank Marshall Davis."

This "documentary" was produced by Joel Gilbert, who's a regular speaker at the annual CPAC neckdrooling contest. His impeccable credentials also include being a regular contributor to FamilySecurityMatters.org, a website run by Frank Gaffney.

This movie has everything an inbred Obama-hating conspiracy theorist could love, except — EXCEPT — brace yourself now: this documentary is telling us that Barack Obama was NOT born in Kenya. Therefore he's an American Citizen!!!!

That dull thud you just heard was the sound of millions of birthwipes having the rug pulled out from under them. This is their Ghost Dancing moment.

This movie, as enjoyable as it is for the teabirthing crowd, ultimately brings on the ultimate torture: Confusion. Cognitive Dissonance. Not being absolutely 100% Certain about something. Damn it, rightwingers need to be told, clearly, EXACTLY how it is. PERIOD. Otherwise, how can they spew out their talking points if they're not sure which talking point to spew?

Let them twist slowly in the wind.

This falls nicely in line ahead of "Attack of the Killer Tomatoes" and "McKenna's Gold" on the list of All-time Worst Movies. I'm sure the CPAC crowd will love it and be able to sort out what to believe, the standard being the loonier the better. The movie wins.

Not even clicking on the link this time Tom and nothing you do or say will make me. I learned that lesson few days ago with the images of Lush Rimjob still burning the back of my retinas.

So to summarize PO is, hell I can't even do it because they keep adding to it. Huckabee today saying he hangs with "morally repugnant political whores with misshapen values and gutter level ethics." Well yeah Huck but only when he is in front of them at a State of the Union address in the house. Yesterday we got the question from one of the pastors jazz hands, is Obama gay like this would be a bad thing should he be. I am so glad next week I start a 3 week vacay and won't be in the vicinity of electronics while scuba diving. Well hopefully I won't be, less the hubby tries to kill me off.

Not being around electronics/ technology will allow me a brief respite from all things politics. Should have finished that sentence shouldn't I? It just looks stupid otherwise :)

I have seen the video in which the Kenyan Parliament claims Obama as a "son of the soil of Kenya", and another in which Obama's grandmother claims that Barry was born in Kenya.I have also seen his Kenyan birth certificate. So... assuming that I am willing to take a leap of faith and accept your assertion that "Obama was NOT born in Kenya and is therefore an American citizen",

1. How does NOT being born in Kenya prove American citizenship?
2. How does any of the above prove that he is a NATURAL BORN CITIZEN? (DO YOU EVEN UNDERSTAND THE MEANING OF THE TERM?)
AND

3. If Obama IS a natural born Citizen, where is the REAL Hawaiian birth certificate, the REAL legitimate SS card, and the REAL (NOT FORGED) Selective Service registration card? Why does this man have no valid documentation, or if he DOES, why has none of it been presented as evidence in support of his claims? Why does he claim that he wrote his "autobiography" himself, when the real author (Bill Ayers) has publicly claimed to be the author? Obama seldom speaks the truth about ANYTHING.

Hope you enjoy the fool's dream of another "Communist utopia". Only an egg-headed pseudointellectual with a college education could be so stupid as to believe a pimp like Obama.
