In Case You Missed It

Director Gorman Bechard doesn't live in Minnesota, but his documentary subjects frequently part of the musical fabric of the area. Earlier this year, we published an about his project involving Hüsker Dü's Grant Hart, but this one got off the ground because he was already in town gathering material for a documentary about the Replacements.

Color Me Obsessed screened in the Twin Cities twice in 2011, and comes out on DVD on November 20. Rolling Stone has unveiled an exclusive inside look at the movie. In this clip, actor-director Jeff Corbett recalls catching the band in New Haven back in 1984.
