

December 2012 Reviews

THE REPLACEMENTS - Colour Me Obsessed: This is an awesome film about one of my favourite American bands and I love it! Despite feeling ill I suddenly found some energy to sit up and watch this. What's great about this movie it's mainly based around the fans perception and memories of the Replacements. What's more this comes with material from the likes of the Husker Du, Babes in Toyland, The Hold Steady, Archers and the Goo Goo Dolls. If this cool film isn't enough then the extras have to be checked out which include some great interviews. A really well put together movie you get for your money here! 9/10
