

FCAI 35

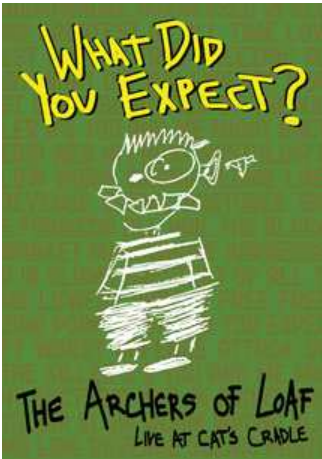

"FCAI 35 - An Evening With Peter Frampton" - 2 DVD set

Track Listing:

The concert footage is killer on this set & my personal favorite of the set is Frampton's instrumental take on "Black Hole Sun" by Soundgarden which sounds amazing!

The documentary on Frampton's guitar which is on disc 2 as bonus footage is also quite interesting because Frampton got the guitar by accident years ago & he lost it at one point, then got it back & had it rebuilt better than it was before....actually the documentary on his guitar is the best part of the set as far as I'm concerned.

All the Frampton classics are on this set & the man is a tad older than he was in his prime, the hair is all gone BUT he can still jam on guitar & he has a killer backing band that bring his music to life.

ARCHERS OF LOAF

"What Did You Expect? - The Archers of Loaf live at Cat's Cradle" DVD

Track Listing:

This dvd captures the bands triumphant reunion show back in 2011 but the bands music is so avantgard that they might not be to everyone's liking considering they sound out of tune at times & their brand of indie rock is so noncommercial that it's comical.

Between songs there are interviews with the band & it's funny to hear the band admit that their name really means nothing and that they actually hate the name, it was just a situation where they needed a name & that was what they chose as a last minute decision.

The video on this disc captures the band in a gritty setting & the bonus tracks are cool but I'll admit I was a tad let down with the instrumentation of some songs because at times it felt like things were not coming together which is EXACTLY how the Archers of Loaf were as a band to begin with!
