Iggy And The Stooges to release DVD of Ron Asheton tribute concert

The official website for Iggy And The Stooges has announced plans to release a DVD of its 2011 tribute concert for band member Ron Asheton in April.

Asheton died in 2009 of a heart attack. He was the Stooges' original guitarist, but moved to bass for Raw Power, a position he held through the band's reunion.

The concert was held on April 19, 2011 at the Michigan, Theater in Ann Arbor and featured Radio Birdman's Deniz Tek joining the Stooges on guitar. Henry Rollins hosted the show and also performs on the first song, "I've Got A Right".

Profits from the sale of the DVD will benefit the Ron Asheton Foundation, a charity set up in his memory. In addition to his musical career, Asheton was a avid lover of animals known to provide a home for stray cats he would come across. The foundation honors both parts of his life – subsidizing public school music departments and veterinary care for families in need and supporting animal and music charitable organisations.

The DVD is available for pre-order at MVD Entertainment at a price of $12.71/£8.35.

The tracklisting for the DVD is:

I Got A Right (with Henry Rollins)
Raw Power
Search And Destroy
Gimme Danger
Shake Appeal

Current Issue April 2013

When towards the end of 1974, The Troggs announce their latest comeback single will be a cover of The Beach Boys' "Good Vibrations", it's an occasion for much mocking laughter in the offices of what used to be Melody Maker.

Ron didn't hold the position of bass player on the band's reunion. He played guitar (Mike Watt is their bass player since they got back together).

EDITOR'S LETTER

David Bowie's The Next Day - The ultimate review and 10-page special in the new Uncut

David Bowie's return to active service with The Next Day has been described as the greatest comeback ever and I'm sure every Bowie fan is hoping this will in fact be the truth of the matter when they finally get to hear the album, which is released on March 11, still a tantalising couple of...
