

Sexsquatch

(<http://www.dvdsnapshot.com/wp-content/uploads/2013/03/Sexsquatch.jpg>) Official Synopsis:

Joey Jeremiah's friends have gathered near Blood Stool Creek for a party weekend to throw their ambitious friend a "get laid" party. Teens... woods... beer... sex... what could possibly go wrong? Well the wooded area that plays host to their good times houses a sinister beast. He's blood thirsty, intelligent, eloquent, covered in hair, and HORNY as hell... it's SEXSQUATCH!

Our Take:

I watched a film a few weeks back called Repligator with two friends. One of those friends happened to be with me this weekend and we figured Sexsquatch couldn't be any worse than that piece of, well, you know what.

Were we right? Sort of, but that's not saying a whole lot either. The positives that Sexsquatch has over Repligator aren't many, but they do help. The acting was a bit better in this one. Don't get me wrong it was still pretty terrible acting, but maybe 2 or 3 of these actors weren't completely awful. The guy playing Sexsquatch was at least kinda funny and had a cool voice. This film was a bit more entertaining overall. I would never watch it again, but at least this one wouldn't sober up a drunk person. There was a musical interlude in it for no reason whatsoever, but we laughed at it so I guess that's entertaining. This had better looking women. There were 3 that I would somewhat call good looking enough and had some really nice cleavage. The one girl had MAJOR CLEAVAGE.

But that brings me to a negative. How do you call your movie Sexsquatch and have ZERO nudity in it? Not even a nipple slip? That was a major disappointment because we really wanted to see the one girl topless. If your movie is going to have a preposterous story and really bad effects, at least have nudity. There were two women who should never be seen on screen again. One was just horrible, the other at least seemed like she was trying, but has a face for radio if you know what I'm saying. And why was the one guy doing Robert DeNiro the entire movie? And why did the one guy have a fake mullet and moustache? And why was the best actor the guy in the costume? And why would one guy randomly appear with his shorts around his ankles with different t-shirts? And how did this get DVD distribution?

Special Features:

- Behind the Scenes Footage
- Gag Reel
- Trailers

Conclusion:

Sexsquatch looks like it was made for about a $100 with actors who were friends just putting a film together. I've seen worse, but ultimately this is a pretty sad movie. I will admit laughing at a couple of parts because they seemed so out of context with the rest of the film (because they were clever lines or scenes in a disaster of a film). I can't recommend this to anyone, but the title will clearly open a few eyes and get some people to wonder about it.

FOR THE INSANELY CURIOUS!

Overall Picture:

Film: DDD (For major cleavage, giggity)
