SUMMER JAMS 2013: The Photon Band, "Don't Feel Bad"

At the risk of repeating ourselves, any day where there's a new Photon Band record is good goddamned day. Yesterday was just such a day, as Pure Photonic Matter \(Volume 1\) came in the mail and made the dinner hour even more righteously thunderous than it already was (and oh, it was). Though there's a bunch of great tracks on the LP, it's "Don't Feel Bad" that provokes windmills and smiles. With hooks as tall as City Hall, a spoken-word bit that's straight outta Phil Spector and rhythmic bounce that just won't stop, it is ambivalence-as-glory in the grand tradition of Teenage Fanclub. And man, we'll tell you what: It doesn't feel bad. (PS. The groop plays on 7/6 at JB's.)
