MOLD! movie

Credits: MVD Entertainment group

A classified government project is underway to create a new weapon to combat the drug cartels. That weapon is a fast-growing, genetically engineered strain of mold designed to wipe out coca fields - the only problem is, this MOLD also feeds on human flesh. And when the murderous mildew is mysteriously released in a secret lab, it wages its own war on a group of unsuspecting scientists and military officials, who are forced to fight their way to safety while trying to contain the MOLD before it is unleashed on the world.

MOLD! is a 2012 movie produced by Mentally Ill Films and written by Dave Fogerson and co-written by director Neil Meschino and stars Edward X. Young, Ardis Campbell, Robert Fattorini, Chris Gentile, Lawrence George and Rick Haymes.

The film won "Best Feature" in the Nevermore Film Festival, and "Best Director" in the Film Festival. Some see it as a throwback to 80s film-making but in no way is it a moldy-oliae. Although some of the acting is stiff (or moldy), this is a fine genre movie - in science fiction color - with enough gore and cheesy originality to invest 86 minutes in. Add it to your movie collection, it's one form of Mold you won't want to get rid of!

Available, May 21st, the film's bonus features include Director's Commentary, Behind the Scenes Featurette, and Trailers.
