

Alternative Cinema

Apprehensive films

Cheezy Flicks

Chemical Burn Entertainment

Magnet releasing

SRS CINEMA

Troma

Wild Eye Releasing

World wide multi media

Death by VHS

Pre Order today Available Sept 17th

Blog Archive

- ▼ 2013 (88)
- August (5)
- July (13)
- June (14)
- May (12)
- April (9)
- March (15)
- February (12)

Monday, July 22, 2013

Exhumed DVD review.

SYNOPSIS:

A warped and mysterious family are unable to leave the house they reside in for unknown reasons. When this strange brood decide to turn their captivity into a sick and violent game, it challenges their very reality and puts all of their lives in great jeopardy. IMDB

This was probably the best acting I've ever seen come from legendary scream queen Debbie Rochon, Bad things happen to the guests that reside in this familys house & the demented husband of Rochon's character seems to be the most disturbed hidden in the basement he reconstructs the family & the house guests/tenants with mannequins something similar to what you would see in a film like Happy Birthday to me although not with corpses. This is a very eerie & atmospheric film & I would highly recommend it to any horror fan.

RANK 8.5/10