24 September 2013

In 2012 a resurrection no one thought possible took place when legendary band The Stone Roses reformed after 16 years. With unprecedented access to previously unseen archive footage, Shane Meadows presents, The Stone Roses: Made Of Stone, a revealing documentary about the life of one of the most revered and influential bands in British music history.

Packed with hours of exclusive extras and available on single-disc DVD and a special collectors 2 disc Blu-ray & DVD Edition, this is a must have purchase and available to own on 21st October 2013.

Acclaimed film maker and self-proclaimed Stone Roses super fan Shane Meadows presents a touching documentary by bringing his unique directorial style, humour and emotional depth to the film by capturing the band at work and in their everyday lives as they rehearsed for their much-anticipated reunion, which culminated in three triumphant homecoming gigs at Manchester's Heaton Park in front of 220,000 adoring fans.

Vocalist Ian Brown, guitarist John Squire, bassist Gary 'Mani' Mounfield and drummer Alan 'Reni' Wren make up the legendary four piece who formed in Manchester in 1986.

In October 2011 the impossible happened, the band called a press conference and announced they had reunited. This DVD is the chance to be part of one of the biggest comebacks Britain has ever seen, all captured on camera by director Shane Meadows and available to own this autumn.

The DVD, and Collectors Edition are packed with exclusive extras, including an insightful travelogue of the European Tour including live performances, a director/producer commentary, plus loads more!

Incorporating never-before-seen material spanning the band's musical history, the personal experiences of many of those touched by the band and their music, and unparalleled access to the record-breaking sell-out concerts which took place in summer 2012, The Stone Roses: Made Of Stone is the last chance to revisit the astounding comeback of the definitive band of the past 25 years.
