Sam Spade (Bogart), a partner in a private-eye firm who finds himself hounded by police when his partner is killed while tailing a man. The girl (Mary Astor) who hired him to follow the man turns out not to be who she says she is and is involved in an intrigue with a certain statue of a bird. This Maltese falcon is also the obsession of two shady characters, Joel Cairo (Peter Lorre) and Kasper Gutman (Sydney Greenstreet). Bonuses include commentary by a Bogart biographer, a background featurette, a studio blooper reel, makeup tests, and three audio-only radio adaptations.

"The Treasure of the Sierra Madre" (1948), has Bogie in Hollywood's definitive action drama about the destructive effects of greed, with an Academy Award-winning performance by Walter Huston. Extras include making-of featurettes, a profile of director John Huston, newsreels, classic cartoons, and a comedy short.

The last film of the collection, "The African Queen" (1951) takes place in 1914. As the cantankerous, unkempt sailor Charlie Allnut, Bogart trades witty repartee with the outspoken sister of a missionary (Katharine Hepburn) aboard a rickety boat that they contrive to navigate through rough waters to do their part for the British war effort. A behind-the-scenes featurette chronicles the difficulties of shooting on location in Africa in an era when most motion pictures were shot in studios and back lots.

"The Wolf of Wall Street" (Paramount) follows Jordan Belfort (Leonardo Di Caprio) as he works his way up to become a stockbroker on Wall Street. When the 1987 market crash puts him out of a job, he becomes adept at selling junk stocks that pay huge commissions. Jordan quickly makes a fortune. As he finds new and not entirely legal ways to make money, he meets Donnie Azoff (Jonah Hill), a guy eager to get rich no matter the means. Together, they create a mini-empire of brokers determined to reap financial rewards even at their clients' expense.

Di Caprio teams up with director Martin Scorsese for the fifth time in this movie. As in his previous role in "The Great Gatsby," DiCaprio embodies the charm that is the cornerstone of his character's financial success. Hill uses his comic talents to advantage in the role of Donnie, and creates a true characterization that provides an interesting contrast to DiCaprio's Belfort.

Director Scorsese does an excellent job of recreating the excitement of Wall Street in the 1980s and '90s with its conspicuous consumption, disdain of moderation, and feeling of invulnerability. "The Wolf of Wall Street" is a tale of the power of money to corrupt and the ability of the corrupted to rationalize their immoral and illegal activities.

Bonuses on the two-disc Blu-ray/DVD combo pack include the special feature "The Wolf Pack" and a digital HD ultraviolet copy.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Be careful of what you are doing, Aries. You could send an e-mail to the wrong person or leave a sensitive document in the copier. Stay on your toes most of this week.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Keep track of your finances, Taurus. It's easy to let a bill slide by otherwise. You don't want to mar your financial record with a foolish mistake, like sending out a payment late.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21
It will be difficult to schedule meetings these days, Gemini. Everyone keeps switching the date, and finding an acceptable time is turning into a fiasco. Keep your patience.

CANCER - June 22/July 22
Some of your best plans will go awry, Cancer. Just about everything will require more time and, most likely, more money. You may want to jump ship.

LEO - July 23/Aug 23
The next week is not ideal for venturing into new territory, but you can shore up projects you have already started. These projects may be relationships as well.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
This isn't the time for domestic decisions. You could end up with home renovations that border on weird. Wait some time before heading to the home center or choosing paint swatches.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
This week, you will be delighted to bump into old friends. Take the time to catch up on past history, and resolve to keep in touch more, Libra. You prefer play to work anyway.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
If you've been scatterbrained, things will all come into focus this week, Scorpio. You could find that lost watch or set of keys. Others will notice your regained concentration.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Things are not working according to your timetable, Sagittarius, and you are frustrated. It's best if you adapt to the new schedule rather than forging ahead.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
You can finally catch up on all those chores you promised to get to, Capricorn. Even though the thought isn't appealing, you know that it can't be all fun and no work.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Your schedule this week seems ridiculous. You feel there will be no way to get it all done, Aquarius. Somehow you'll summon the power of an army and push through.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Beware of making promises you can't keep, since this week you are overly optimistic, Pisces. Don't commit until April arrives.

Spring Break Fishing Days announced

Lorrimer Nature Sanctuary invites youngsters age eight through 13 to its Spring Break Fishing Days at the sanctuary located at 790 Ewing Avenue in Franklin Lakes. Fishermen of all levels of expertise are welcome.

Learn the basics about gear, bait, lures, proper fish handling, and conservation ethics. All fishing will be done at safe, publicly accessible ponds and streams in the area, such as Zabriskie Pond, Saddle River Park, and the Ridgewood Duck Pond. Van transportation will be provided daily. Fishermen should bring their own gear, including rod, reel, and tackle box. Those who do not have gear may inquire at the sanctuary about loaners.

The program will be held on April 8, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 17, and 18 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Participants may register for each day separately. The cost is $65 per day and the group is limited to 10.

To register, call the nature center office at (201) 891-2185.

Applicants sought for summer internships

Christian Health Care Center is offering an Undergraduate Summer Internship Program that will provide students with a chance to explore career interests through targeted work assignments, mentoring, job shadowing, and a lecture series.

Students will complete a six-week unpaid, non-clinical internship in various departments. Interns will be required to provide 15 to 20 hours of service per week. Schedules are flexible with the exception of Monday, which will include scheduled group educational sessions.

The program is open to students currently enrolled full-time in a four-year undergraduate program. Students must have completed at least one year of college, and must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better and a career interest in the health care industry. Candidates must complete and submit a letter of interest and the application available at www.chccnj.org by clicking on the Career Opportunities link. Interns must be available to commit to the program from June 9 to Aug. 1, attend orientation on June 9, and be available from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Mondays.

Internships are offered in organizational development/human resources, food and nutrition services, health information management, therapeutic patient activities, finance and information management, rehabilitation therapy, marketing and development, social work, nursing administration, health care administration, and mental health care administration (full continuum of care – not a counseling internship).

Application, essay, and all required paperwork must be submitted to dkish@chccnj.org by May 2. Unpaid internships will provide students with a transportation stipend once they have completed no less than 90 percent of the committed hours.

For more information, visit www.chccnj.org.

Knights host Fish & Chips Dinner

The Saint Elizabeth Council of the Knights of Columbus will host its annual Fish & Chips Dinner on Friday, April 4 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Saint Elizabeth Parish Hall on Greenwood Avenue in Wyckoff. Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for children and are available after weekend Masses or by calling Doug Arone at (201) 891-2132. Take-out orders will also be accepted.

YMCA announces Job Fair

YWCA Bergen County will host a Job Fair for individuals who would like to work as summer camp counselors and lifeguards. The fair will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on March 27 in the Salamone Room at YWCA Bergen County, 112 Oak Street in Ridgewood.

The fair will include information regarding summer camps, applications, contests and giveaways, and on-site interviews with camp directors. A free prerequisite water skills test will be given that night for those interested in lifeguarding.

Camp counselors must be at least 18 years of age and available to work June 23 through Aug. 22. Lifeguards must be at least 15 years of age and able to work May 24 through Aug. 31. For details, contact Kerry Jannicelli at (201) 345-1906 or visit www.ywcabergencounty.org.

Learn about native plants

The New Jersey Botanical Gardens at Skylands invites the public to a free program, "Native Plants in the Home Landscape," at 1 p.m. on Sunday, March 30. This program will be held indoors at the Carriage House Visitor Center at the botanical gardens located on Morris Road in Ringwood.

Don Torino of the Bergen County Audubon Society will discuss why native plants are so important to the environment. He will also show how local yards can be transformed into healthy environments for birds and butterflies.

The New Jersey State Botanical Garden at Skylands, which appears on both the State and National Registers of Historic Places, is open daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Admission to the garden is always free. Parking is also free in the fall, winter, and spring. For more information, call (973) 962-9534 or visit www.njbg.org.

(continued from Crossword page) all their married life. As their 50th wedding anniversary approaches, the area has changed for the worse and a gang leader named Strut (Kim Delgado) has decided to make Coney Island his new turf. Strut begins shaking down merchants, demanding payment for "protection," and using violence to deal with anyone who gets in his way. David refuses to give Strut protection money. His diner is soon firebombed, while many of his neighbors are attacked and his synagogue is desecrated. Janet Leigh plays their daughter Florence, who is planning to marry more for security than for love.

The movie covers several themes, including old age, urban blight, the generation gap, terminal illness, and the American Dream. Director Stephen Verona has elicited first-rate performances. The supporting cast includes 1930s actress and singer Lillian Roth, songwriter Sammy Cahn, and longtime deep-voiced character actor Joe Silver. There are no extras on the DVD release.

"Delivery Man" (Touchstone) is a comedy starring Vince Vaughn as David Wozniak, an underachiever who discovers he has fathered 533 children via donations he made to a sperm bank 20 years earlier. Several of those children are now suing to learn the identity of their "father" and David finds that this might be the best thing that ever happened to him. Vaughn has made a career of playing various incarnations of the "man boy" -- an irresponsible adult who redeems himself through a set of carefully scripted circumstances. Vaughn has a pleasant screen presence and his trademark rapid-fire delivery provides plenty of laughs, but the movie often borders on maudlin as Vaughn's David finds within him the qualities and compassion that would have made him a pretty decent dad. Bonuses on the Blu-ray release include outtakes of Vaughn improvising, bloopers, deleted scene, and a behind-the-scenes featurette.

"Monsters: The Complete Series" (Entertainment One) contains in nine DVDs all 72 episodes of the syndicated horror program that originally ran from 1988 to 1990. Produced by the same team that created "Tales from the Dark Side," this anthology contains stories of witches, vampires, ghouls, zombies, prehistoric creatures, aliens, eccentric people, and folks with amazing powers. The actors include Adrienne Barbeau, David McCallum, Gina Gershon, Darren McGavin, Pam Grier, Deborah Harry, Chris Noth, John Saxon, David Spade, Jerry Stiller, Lili Taylor, Linda Blair, Meat Loaf, Laraine Newman, and Steve Buscemi. Production values are generally high and the stories display flair, stepping into many areas pioneered by "The Twilight Zone."
