IGGY POP - Live In San Fran 1981 {MVD} What the FUCK is this?? This '14-tracker' features, allegedly, 12 live tracks. On my copy, when you reach track six, the previous five repeat - out of sync! It's not even a good IGGY performance. The guitarist (who apparently went on to work with Bowie!?) sounds wasted to fuck... the two STOOGES covers are pitiful at best... thankfully Clem Burke's drumming holds it together to retain some cohesion. The closing two tracks, 'Fire Engine' and the superior, semi-gothic 'Warrior Tribe', are unreleased studio tunes and provide obvious highlights. Both are electro-laced and, I'm guessing, outtakes from the 'Party' or 'Zombie Birdhouse' sessions. Packaging is shit - there are no details of the musicians, no date or time of recording, not even any photos. This a duff copy? If so, even given the fact it's IGGY, the general quality is so fucking bad I really don't wanna hear it. Search and destroy - totally.
