This is probably my personal favorite from the entire Bowery Collection of live cds so far..Living Colour were an all black heavy metal band that blended soul, funk, punk & hardcore with their version of hard rock..they played white music but added a black side to it...Vernon Reid's guitar work is strong & exciting..it's got sloppy moments to it, but the bands rhythm section picks up the slack & adds elements of reggae & funk to the metal elements while Corey's vocals are soulful & unique....the band plays all their classics in this tight live show with a culmination of the bands biggest hit, "Cult of Personality" as a closer that brings the house down!
