it's new to me

grant hart, hot wax

this pains me. i just saw an amazing show by this guy a couple months ago, he is one of my favorite singers ever, and i LOVED his last record, but, new albums are NEW albums.

my quick review:

1 awesome.
60s garage.

great singing, great keys. no husker overtones
 2 cool. awkward sequencing. too long
 3 worst mixing intro ever. awesome. classic hart. amazing singing.
 4 classic pop ... just weird, and not good weird
 5 more nova mob roman nonesense
 6 kinda cool, but kinda cool like wings, cool sounds, but nothing there
 7 like an outtake from an early 70s beach boys record ... like, not making the cut of an early 70s beach boys record, which wasn't easy
 8 cool, but in the sense that grant could sing the phone book and that would be cool 9 his thank you friends (big star's third). sings his ass off. but too little too late

by song 3 i was getting lofty thoughts. after song 7, i was hitting that alex chilton "thanks, but not nearly recently" button

Thanks for posting about this record; did not know it was out there. I went over to iTunes to check out the clips and based on that abbreviated samplina...
