MML News: Bob Mould DVD Preview!!

Bob Mould photographed by the fair hand of MML.

Ok, ok... please don't wet your collective knickers. The numerous Bob Mould fans/bloggers who are connected to our blog are probably getting the good news as we post the new link.. This is absolutely amazing and I can't believe Jason Narducy posted a preview via MySpace bulletin this evening. The upcoming live DVD from the Bob Mould Band titled Circle Of Friends is set for release October 2007 and we've been waiting for some time to see it. This preview consists of a local Washington, D.C. performance at 9:30 Club that concluded the 2005 tour supporting the incredible LP Body Of Song.

A Good Idea is a favorite song of ours from the Sugar days, and here it is live... To say this is classic "Bob" is an understatement.

Live Video: Bob Mould - A Good Idea (2005) ...no higher recommendation than this!!

AND ANOTHER THING...

Just to be clear... we are not paid for doing this. Both of us are gainfully employed & just do this for fun, because we both love discovering good music and want to share it with anyone who's prepared to listen!

The vast majority of the songs featured on here have been made freely available for download by the bands themselves - although we prefer to host the songs we feature so as not to cause bandwidth problems for anyone. We only feature music we're seriously impressed by (you won't find anything negative on here, this is about seeking out the good stuff!) so if you like what you hear, please do support the

The DVD contains the full live set, as follows:

Hee hee. I think I'm queen of the knicker wetters, Casey.

The preview looks amazing. I was able to get to the video site, not myspace. I actually almost went to that show. That tour was AMAZING.

Of course, if you are in one of the bands featured and no longer wish your song to be posted on here, just let us know and we'll take it down straight away.

Speaking of discovering good music... if you think we might enjoy yours, please get in touch... we'd love to hear from you!
