Magical Mystery Tour (1/2) This lightweight documentary focuses on the Beatles during their 1967 “Magical Mystery Tour” bus caravan as they prepared for and then filmed their movie of the same name.

Film actor Victor Spinetti, who appeared in the movie, as well as Help! and A Hard Day's Night, narrates and introduces each segment, explaining how “the boys,” as he calls them, traveled rural England, causing chaos as they went.

Interesting enough, but rights and licensing must have played a part to explain the lack of Beatles music or any clips from the resulting film.

Not rated, 55 minutes.

The DVD holds an additional 20 minutes of extra interviews.
