The Beatles: Rare and Unseen

The Beatles: Rare and Unseen is a DVD packed with long-hidden treasures concerning one of the most popular and beloved bands in the world: previously unseen home movies, personal photographs, recently rediscovered film, and true stories related firsthand from the witnesses who were there. From the earliest known footage of the Beatles on stage (Liverpool, Feb. 1962), to the one existing film of their Scotland tour (Caird Hall Dundee, Oct. 1964) to highlights of an interview with John Lennon (recorded in New York for French TV), The Beatles: Rare and Unseen is an absolute "must-have" for Beatles fans everywhere. Highly recommended. 90 minutes.
