

www.dvdtipsheet.com

FLYIN' CUT SLEEVES

Former South Bronx teacher Rita Fecher relates her 20-year account of the savage and redeeming lives of local gang members, disclosing their devoted alliances, survival philosophies and commitment to bringing a better life to their neighborhoods. Fecher, who co-produced the film directed by Henry Chalfant, presents a raw piece spanning four generations and revealing the effect that violence, politics and culture had on these ghetto "families."...WOW! THIS IS VERY SCARY BUT ALSO VERY GOOD ! I WOULD RENT IT FIRST BEFORE YOU ADD IT TO YOUR COLLECTION. IT IS A VERY GOOD DOCUMENTARY ABOUT THE LIFE IN THE GHETTO. YOU MUST SEE IT TO BELIEVE IT, ALSO IT'S HELPING PEOPLE. IT COMES IN FULL SCREEN...Extra Features...Color; interactive menus; scene access.

- Tex Hughes