He's My Brother She's My Sister announces a first album

You might remember He's My Brother She's My Sister from the cover of The Deli LA's third print edition, back in 2010; if anything, that charming way Lauren Brown adds a little tap-dancing to the beat of her drums, or even their colourful outfits will ring a bell. If none of that does, time to get acquainted with them. Fact is, after three years of hard work and as much fun, this high energy five-piece retro-blues-folk cabaret number has landed a deal with Park The Van Records to release this winter a first full-length album, 'Nobody Dances In This Town'; and to introduce it, here's a little extra dose of electric guitars on the adequately named 'Electric Love' which brings a touch of rock'n'roll to their rootsy aesthetic and a swinging summer flavour to our ears. Before they set off on an extensive thirty-odd dates US tour, starting in Santa Barbara on September 15th, catch them for a last summer show at LA's California Plaza next Friday (8.24)!
